create an experience that enhances your brand.

A high-angle, wide shot of a modern conference room. The room features a large, dark wood conference table with a lighter wood inlay border. Several leather-upholstered chairs are arranged around the table. In the background, two large projection screens are visible, and a framed picture hangs on the wall. The ceiling is recessed with several circular lights. The overall atmosphere is professional and sophisticated.

What's your communication challenge? Tired of carting a projector around? Do you need music to sound beautiful in your space without overwhelming the customers' conversations? Is your board room or conference room in need of an audio/video update? Maybe you just want someone, an expert, to take care of your technology? Whatever your audio and video needs are, one thing is for sure, you want it to work without it becoming a hassle. And whether you want to dazzle your clients and customers or you just want something simple and easy to use, we have the experience, tools, and products that will make it a reality.

Your business is your livelihood and we'd like to invite you to transform your space into something extraordinary. At Audio Impact, our comprehensive collection of commercial components work together to bring out the personality and life of your space in a way that is as dramatic as it is unobtrusive. We call it a brand investment that transforms an environment into an experience.

How do you transform your space into something extraordinary? It's easier than you think. shape your space.

Typically, implementing an audio/video vision is uncharted territory to most of our customers. Our experienced team takes pride in guiding each vision through the planning process. Our technical design specialists will guide you to determine specifications and provide innovative design solutions.

We concentrate on customer needs, and focus on quality, while managing every detail to ensure your project runs smoothly, and within budget.

The first step to designing a successful space is to listen. Every customer has unique needs. It's our responsibility to formulate a plan based on those needs. A dedicated technical design specialist will partner with you, your architect, or interior designer to guide you through each step of the custom design process. They'll align the latest technologies to complement your audio video needs without sacrificing your decor.

We believe the key to creating the ideal space begins with world class consumer and commercial audio/video components - including many you won't find at your local electronics store. Our custom design solution integrates these collective components to harmonize in a well designed system.

Once the ideal system is ready to be installed, our installation experts complete the equation with meticulous craftsmanship - at every level. Audio Impact fuses personal hands-on service with over twenty-years experience. With a firm foundation as a licensed service provider and our knowledge of current audio/video technology, Audio Impact simplifies your needs where others complicate them. Audio Impact views your business as a complete entity and offers solutions to all of your wiring and wireless needs, design, implementation and service. Simply stated, Audio Impact has the plan, the products, and the people to help you achieve the ideal.

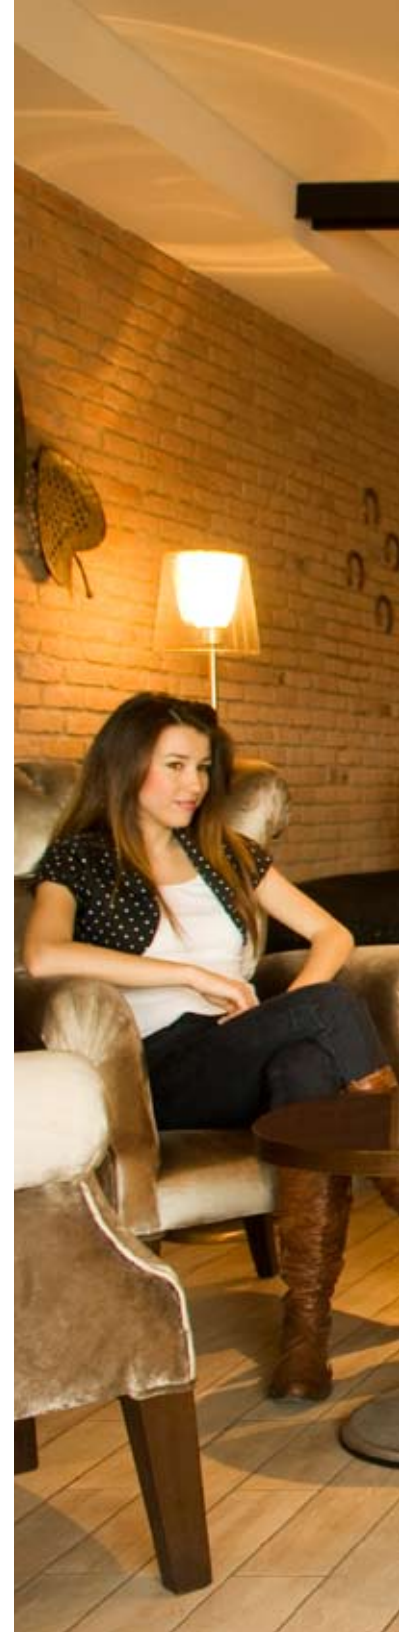

We are fanatical about audio/video and our capabilities prove it. Audio Impact is so confident that we can design the perfect solution for your needs that the first visit is on us. That's right. The first consultative visit and design quote is free of charge.
